Reviews from Good Old Games Really worth the money 5 By AcroObserver Does what it says on the tin. New Token Packs are always welcome, but I doubt it'll make much of an impact on my gaming group; most people have all their tokens and there are already 6 Base Tokens, 4 of which are Earth and Air tokens, so this is just a nice, filler pack to have. Great set of tokens 5 By smcwork Wouldn't ask for any more from a game that isn't particularly easy to play, but has many interesting elements. I'd definitely suggest this is what you should be using if you're looking for a solid starter set. Nice little tokens 5 By trancide A solid little set of tokens. There's plenty of options for various types of tokens and they're quite well represented across the token set. I do wish they'd added some more Air tokens to the set so we had more to manage and organise in our tokens box, but I'

Fantasy Grounds is a miniatures-based web-based simulation system for the tabletop role-playing game, Deadlands, and the Dungeons & Dragons setting of the same name. It allows users to build and manage their own custom tabletop campaigns on any device that can access the internet, and has been adopted by a number of die-hard D&D fans. About Iron Sky: Invasion Iron Sky is a space combat flight simulator in which you are flying a Red Bull's X-Prize contender, the unmanned Nefelheim, launched from the Russian aircraft carrier, the Kuznetsov, launched from the German ship, the Kirov, and piloted by a German astronaut, Captain Frank Winter. All three ships are chasing the mysterious "Czarina of the Skies" which is in telepathic contact with her twin celestial bodies, the Nazi Empire, and the mysterious "Purple Planet" of the title. The combined German, Russian and American forces must try to find the "Czarina of the Skies" before the Germans and their allies reach their targets and attempt to establish a Nazi colony on Venus. Features • Space adventure mode; • Make your own campaign; • Mine and build space colonies; • Choose your battles in a variety of genres, including First-Person Shooter, Adventure and Real-Time Strategy; • There are two game modes: campaign mode and space battles; • A full implementation of the Deadlands rules; • Bring your own spacecraft. A unique, dynamic and truly cinematic shooting experience, in which the player uses their own guns to fight against the most deadly spacecraft in the Deadlands universe - the Iron Sky! Shoot down enemies as you become the ultimate weapons master in the ultimate space shooter! Excellent Game! But I purchased the game on Steam and am stuck at 83% with a blank window that says "Unable to run game on this system. Help us improve by selecting details below. You can also view your download folder for more details." My system is a Windows 7 64bit, the game works fine, I am not a noob. How can I fix this so I can have my game, can't afford to wait longer than 2 months for my compensation Was this helpful? PPS May 25, 2015 Love it!! What's new:

I've found myself locked in a mad battle with the Rat Vipers for the left-hand side of Widowmaker's upper-arm. I've broken through the first line of defenders, the mohawk-wearers, all too easily--and as always, I'm able to dispense with any traps on my way through. I'm not running away like last time either. I'm sprinting in as fast as I can, firing two shots into the chest of the skeletal soldier chasing me. It's a good thing I see him coming, too. Once I'm clear of the rest of the group, I turn and whip my handgun up. The next second, the skeleton is bursting apart. 05 Dec 2016 03:07:14 General News - "The Flame of Freedom" I'm looking down on the scene and see a group of soldiers standing in a circle. More soldiers are running over to reinforce them. This can't be good. I look around and spot a sniper standing to the side of the event. He's taking advantage of a tree trunk in front of him. I pick him first. His armor's of no help and his default weapon, a hammer, gets the job done quickly. Nearby a group of my hunters is being overrun by pasteboard boxes and inflatables and I'm winning that one, too. Someone at the shore is shooting an arrow out of their sniper scope. I can hear footsteps approaching at a fast pace and I start running for my assassin. Suddenly I see the man I'm after and suddenly he sees me. I'm moving fast and I hit him at the same instant. fist into neck. He dies. Not good. 31 Oct 2016 00:45:39 General News - "The Flame of Freedom"
