Run your own roguelike adventure in the pit and fight for your life. Every Run is Unique You will start out as a brand new character who is no better than the last, as the pit goes through an interesting mechanic called the Ascension. As you fight and experience the challenges of the Pit, you will acquire powers and abilities, and ascend. The first time you experience the Ascension, you will be essentially a brand new character, but with all the powers and abilities you've gained from the Pit so far. Every Run is Unique Of course, like every other run, the Pit will reset when you go above level 10, but there is still something special about being able to pick up all your old weapons and gear. Your old abilities will also be present, which can be used by certain lucky runs. You have survived so far! Before we hit the boss for this run, we want to reward you. When you beat 10 enemies in a row (even if they were against your friend), you will receive the Lucky Run Badge. You go through the Forgotten Souls starting area, which is a dark and abandoned city. The area is divided into 5 different sectors, like the city, the desert, the industrial area, etc. Every area has a unique set of battles and attacks, and bosses. You can find clues in the city to unlock levels, but there is an alternate way to complete all content. -Levels: You can level up by beating the bosses in 5 different areas, which unlocks tougher variants of the same boss. You will also find treasure chests for extra cash in the level sectors. -Maps: You will find maps scattered around the city, guiding you to various levels and bosses. -Battles: Every run in the pit is a battle against a boss. There are 10 bosses total, each with their own distinct mechanics. -Cash Shop: After every run, you will unlock a chest of treasure. Stacked together with your cash, the chests create a shop that allows you to buy different services and upgrades to the weapon. The Game is Free to Play, but you can purchase in-game items. This includes the ability to use superweapons. These superweapons give you incredible power and can easily destroy bosses without warning. Ascending Roadmap: Ascending is a massive project that has been in development since April 2017. The goal is to eventually build and release an entire game from scratch, bringing a traditional roguelike dungeon crawler to market. The following aspects of the game are already complete: -Gameplay: 5 bosses with unique mechanics and statistics. -Sectors: 5 different sectors, each with their own bosses and mechanics. -Death: A death is expected and unavoidable. -Leveling: Levels are unlocked by beating the bosses in each area and determining what mechanics you can add for the next boss. -Treasure: You will find chests scattered throughout the city. The chests contain cash and gives you an extra chance to unlock different levels. Progress has been made on the following features: -HUD: The HUD is currently designed. -UI: The user interface is currently being designed. -Graphics: The graphic design is currently being designed. -Music: The music is currently being designed and realized. -Story: A proper story has not been implemented. -Mobile: The game is currently being tested on mobile. I have to deal with the major issues with mobile game development. I am testing out on Android and iOS

What's new in Pit Of Ascension:

Wondrous item, very rare (requirements to make) Common The Pit of Ascension is a pit of swirling, twisting currents of absolute nothingness, kindled by the maestro Matrem Aerniobis' powers of ascension. At the center of the pit, there is an area that is a portal to all planes of existance. Intending to form a sturdy bridge between the four planes of reality, Matrem Aerniobis gave a number of weapons, including the Longsword of Swift Ascendency, a bow of feathered arrows, the Staff of Absion, and the Hammer of Aernia to become foundations for the bridge. This has resulted in the downfall of Aernia's topmost chieftain, dark deity and creator of the Pit, the Obscure of Shizelna. Her shadow creature, Absion, was trapped in the Pit after her defeat, but has since been returned to her loyal cultists, although her revival is myhand but unpredictable. Reckless, cultist practices in conjunction with the Pit have resulted in an increase in the invocation of planeshells that can be damaged by normal weapons of level 500+, allied troops, and the force of the Pit of Ascension itself. Planshells that have been afflicted with this problem will wander into the entranceway of the Pit and be flung out into the battlefield, willing to die if needed, depending on how deep their damage has been. If the damage to one or more of these planshells is severe enough, the empty space of the Pit of Ascension will begin to sag, and eventually the longsword at the center will begin to move. If this sword, known as the Eyes of Contagion, finds its way around the entire circumference of the Pit, it will take force and drag the pit downwards, much like a "reverse-engineered gravity" effect. If the Sword of Ascension is summoned in the proximity of the Pit of Ascension, it will move upwards into the sky, much like an elevator, with the pit following its movement until it reaches the topmost floor of the Pit. Miscellaneous This item has been inspired by a link from the instructions in "Objective Hack: The Lore". Do not download this mod, it will not work if you do not have "Objective Hack: The Lore". It is possible that other mod makers can expand on this
