The original pressings of this album were released in Japan on the Genie label, in Australia on the ATB Records label, and in Europe on the Sentric Music label. It was reissued in 2000 in the United States and Europe by Drag City, who also reissued Forbert's second and third solo albums. The original pressing of Secret Needs included a free, handwritten letter from Forbert, in which he expressed a wish that a friend who had died should be the one to enjoy the album. This friend, who was not named, was the basis for a recording of "Secret Needs" included on the album's final track, "Here". The reissue version of Secret Needs includes the letter, but does not include the recording of "Secret Needs" The final track, "Here," is a spoken word poem that begins with the line "I love everything, but especially you". According to reviewer Chuck Eddy of the Denver Post, "The song is a bit woozier than the rough edges of the band's debut, but it's still as poignant as anything Forbert's got to offer." Reception Allmusic's Greg Prato wrote that the original pressings of Secret Needs were "remarkably consistent," and that the album "stays solid, going for the jugular and delivering punches left and right." The RIAA awarded the album two Silver and one Gold record award. Track listing "Secret Needs" 3:34

The St Basil's Cathedral chess set is a beautiful stylised table game. Ideal for relaxed play at the dining table or as an alternative to a board game. This set contains beautiful wood-style pieces, beautifully sculpted by Robert Barber, known for his fantastic jewellery pieces. The large chess board, beautifully presented with waxed edges, comes complete with a host of accessories. The chess set can be used within all versions of Chess Ultra, but includes 12 custom wallpapers for the new Mac version of the game. Two variations of the game are included in the set, plus a strategy guide. The game pieces are based on the city of Moscow's two most recognisable attractions – the world-famous Christ the Saviour cathedral and the St Basil's Cathedral in Red Square. The light blue pieces represent the architecture of the true domed Christ the Saviour cathedral; the dark blue pieces reflect the domes, walls and colours of St Basil's Cathedral. The St Basil's Cathedral Chess set is a gift from the people at Purling London. Recension This is an intense, special and stylish game, which not only allows you to play beautiful chess, but also gives us the chance to express our personalities and art tastes. It's available as a downloadable 'as you wish' pack, only from our website www.chess.com. - PGW February 2011 Concept, structure and style in the game very good. From the players who choose such games.- Eurogamer.pl, March 2011 They've chosen the best elements from every chess type and made it a new game in itself.- PC Gamezone, March 2011 In my view, Chess Ultra shines brightest when it confronts the infinite existential abyss and shows that one can let go of every fear just by playing chess.Last week, David Simon, creator of The Wire, attended TED Talk, where he shared the insights and heartwarming story of a young boy who wanted to become a policeman. The story had a lot of good examples of how policing in the US has progressed over the decades. In that case, I want to share with you here the case of Benjamin Fogleman, a boy from Taunton in the state of Massachusetts, who wanted to be a policeman. At the start, he tried several careers, but he always received negative responses from the employers. Then, when he was just 10, the c9d1549cdd

Title: Fantasy Grounds - Pathfinder 2 RPG - Pathfinder Society Quest #2: Unforgiving FireType: QuestDescription: A fool's try at ancient, dark magics. A chase. A terrible price.Rating: TChallenge Level: 1-3Needed XP: 230Type: Quest EOSPType: Event ARange: YGravity: -1Description: I appear and perform a ritual that summons a fire elemental. I can use it to affect the landscape, and it seems it has the special properties of triggering narrative events. Seeing that I have bypassed your security concerns and the place is too distant from civilisation for you to reach within a reasonable time, you simply follow a command from the Narrator and the Fire will appear. You can turn it off if you prefer.Relaying dialog to the reader: Partially a transcriptExample: I appear, and with a silver touch cast a spell for the fireball effect. Then I say: For those who didn't hear my spell, it's silent. All that's left to do is wait. Then the fireball appears above a ruin on a hill near here, the results of a tremor that destroyed it. Helpful Links:These are just a few of the links that are mentioned in the resource. Here is a full list. I awake... hmm. It's one of those days. Looks like some tourists were visiting and got startled, a few rocks and stones dislodged, nothing too bad. I'm having difficulty catching my breath... there's just something not right about this place, I suppose it's the smell. It's not toxic or unpleasant, just very... unnatural. Like something's died here a long time ago - and someone went through and covered the corpse with dirt. The man must have seen me standing around in the lab. I can tell, 'cause he's trying to act pretty casual, but his eyes keep wandering toward me. I can't say that I blame him. I look like a pile of rags. Those ridiculous clothes itched - and my head is shaved, and I'm dragging my feet behind me. It's obvious that I've been working on the place for a long while, and I failed. Apparently, I had kids making it for me. It's totally disorganized... and my head is spinning. I'm hungry - I must have been half-asleep sleeping long hours away from food. There's a tablet nearby... easier. But there's this Night Road is a side-scrolling action/adventure game. It features great visuals, music, and sound. The controls are responsive. This first-person title has five playable characters (two female). To support this game, please consider providing us with a review! Recent Reviews: This review is from Amazon.com Review: A very short, fast-paced game for the iPhone, with interesting graphics. You have a choice of two characters, light or dark, and you have a finite amount of "fuel", which might be offensive to others. You can change between the characters by tapping the various icon at the bottom right of the screen. There are a few items that you can obtain, and you can also obtain "bonus items" that are unique to each character. There are treasures, but they are hidden away so much of the time that you will not find them. Sometime around the end of the game, there will be a symbol that you need to bring with you to open the next area. It will be on the ground in front of the next "signpost", which is a series of small symbols along the top of the screen. There are 5-6 stages per character. You move with the left and right arrows and there are also left and right "taps" to jump when they are available. There are also arrows to other things that you can jump to. If you tap the "pause" button, you can take more coins and supplies, if there is any. You start out the game with a torch that you can tap to light up the area, which also will burn some of the fuel in your case. You can also blow on the torch to make it light up better, but it will not burn all of the fuel. You must make your way through various traps that your character can step on or avoid. The spiders, snakes, and other creatures are very aggressive and they chase you at every turn. You must find some way to defeat them so that you can move on. The bugs and insects are also aggressive. You must kill them if you wish to move on, but they are also a necessary part of the game for some of them. There are some wonderful games on the App Store. Having worked at one of the top 3 for a time, I know how hard to make a game and market it, but I also know there are some very good apps on the App Store. So, we
