I am writing a javascript application that needs to display a JSP page in a popup window (using a modal popup window defined by mootools). I am using jquery in the body of this main page, and inside the JSP page I have two jQuery functions that run when an event occurs. However, since the JSP page is being loaded from ajax, I can't use the usual parent() function to jump back to the parent window and fire the function I want to run. I have tried the following: Attempt 1: function runJSPPopup() { var jspWindow = $(""); var dialog = $("JSP DIALOG"); var jspPlaceholder = $("JSP CONTENT");
