Roblox is an online game platform and game creation system developed by Roblox Corporation that allows users to program games and play games created by other users. Created by David Baszucki and Erik Cassel in 2004 and released in 2006, the platform hosts user-created games of multiple genres coded in the programming language Lua. For most of Roblox's history, it was relatively small, both as a platform and a company. Roblox began to grow rapidly in the second half of the 2010s, and this growth has been accelerated by the COVID-19 pandemic. Roblox is free to play, with in-game purchases available through a virtual currency called Robux. As of August 2020, Roblox had over 164 million monthly active users, including more than half of all American children under 16. Although Roblox has received generally positive reviews from critics, it has faced criticism for its moderation, microtransactions, and exploitative practices directed toward children. Gamers are only able to be banned for being "mentally unstable" or for "child pornography." Recently, with the rise of Twitch livestreaming, and the amount of casual streamers that are known to be moderators has increased. Video Game Content: This page is about supporting content produced by Roblox. Roblox Forum () is a forum of people who create content for Roblox. There is a topic-based architecture to the forum so threads are nested inside one another. Users can also create private messages to each other to communicate privately. The forum is organized into categories so users can search for other Roblox developers or players, and keep up with what is going on with the Roblox community. When trying to attract new users, there are many things that may affect how users respond. With that being said, users can search for content that will interest them, view topics that are popular, and increase the possibility of getting banned by watching content that is potentially inappropriate for their age. Roblox Videos is the official YouTube channel of Roblox. The channel features Roblox live streams, videos created by Roblox developers, and gameplay videos from Roblox streams. To get notified about Roblox updates, subscribe to Roblox channels on YouTube and follow the channel Roblox. WCSG (pronounced "We Serve Game") is Roblox's premier online play-for-free program.
